RUBY SAYS

TRADE-OFF

Children all save baseball cards
And then they play the trading
game,
Retired folds save coupons
And they do the same.

Every Sunday finds me clipping
And my friends are all amused,
They say they're sure that half of them
Will wind up never being used.

"Not so," I always tell them
And savers should take heed,
I've exchanged my Metamucil
For the Kaopectate that I need.

And all the diaper ones I get
I trade to my younger friends,
And in return they save for me
Their coupons for Depends.

My discount ads on tooth paste
Are exchanged for Polodent,
Now I can eat an apple
And my teeth hold like cement.

Certain coupons have more value
though
As far as I can see,
For one of Preparation "H"
You have to give up two or three.

And so you see, the trade-off
game
Is good for folks retired,
The trick though is, use them
before
You or the coupons have expired.

STUDENTS TO ENTERTAIN YOU

The first, second and third graders from Lander School will be here on Wednesday, April 20th, at 10:00 AM to entertain you and amuse you. They will present a program of song and dance stressing family and relationships. This sounds like a very interesting and fun program. Will we see all of you on that date and time? It will be a nice change.

The childrens teacher is Connie Gottschalk. Come on down and welcome them.

ART CLASS IS IN ACTION

If you would like to do some art work, just stop in on Mondays at 1:00 and try it. You may like it.

Our teacher Patti Wattamm is a very qualified instructor. During grade school, she was awarded a scholarship to the Cleveland Museum of Art and the Cleveland Institute of Art. She attended Fenn College and is a graduate of Boston University. As we said, she is very qualified. See you there?

EVERYONE WAS IRISH

At least for a few hours at the St. Patrick's Day dinner on March 11th and for the entertainment that followed.

The corned beef and cabbage was better than ever and the portions were plentiful.

The entertainment for the evening was a group of Irish dancers that were both authentic and delightful. They will soon be heading for Ireland to compete with many other groups.

Entertainer Dick George followed the dancers. He played, on tapes, a lot of the lilting Irish tunes that everyone remembers and the audience sang along. He also told a few 'Blarney' tales. It was a happy, fun evening.

AFTERNOON LUNCHEON

There was a full house for the afternoon luncheon before settling down for the Big Bingo that followed.

Those Villa Serena hot dogs and hamburgers are really something special.

It was a delicious luncheon and a nice break from 'what'll I have for lunch today'?

BIG BINGO

Alas, no one won the $200.00 again.

It's all because the right numbers aren't called when you need them!

Mr. Chesler had several $5.00 door prizes, a few bottles of wine and some gourmet pasta.

We've just got to try harder to pick out the right cards next time.

THE INNOCENCE OF YOUTH . . .

Little Tommy wanted $100.00 very badly and his mother told him to pray to God for it. He prayed and prayed for two weeks and nothing happened.

Then he decided he should write a letter to God asking for the $100.00.

When the postal authorities received the letter addressed to God they opened it and decided to send it to the President.

The President was so impressed, touched and amused that he told his secretary to send Tommy a check for $5.00, thinking that would appear to be a lot of money to a little boy.. The little boy was delighted with the $5.00 and sat down to write a thank you letter to God:

Dear God:

Thank you very much for sending me the money. I noticed that you had to send it through Washington.

As usual, those stinkers deducted $95.00.

AH, APRIL AT LAST!!!!

Ah, April the end of winter
when we shed all that winter white that we had too much of this year.

We are chasing Old Man Winter away to die and hopefully never come again in such a disastrous manner in which he greeted us
this year.

The promise of Spring, such magical words. Spring with its fluffy white clouds, with tulips, daffodils and crocuses pushing through the soft earth. Trees budding and green grass growing chasing away whats left of "old man winter".

What a thrill it is to realize what beautiful days lay ahead for us. So don't complain when the soft spring rains fall, 'cause you know, April showers will bring May flowers.

Then merely sit back and wait for good ol' summertime to roll along very soon.
