EVENING SLIDE LECTURE PRESENTED
BY PROFESSOR JOSEPH KALL

Many of us have sat fascinated on Thursday afternoons as Professor Kall has presented an enthusiastic and informative insight into various aspects of today's news events. On Wednesday, March 1, at 7:30, Prof. Kall will add a visual dimension to his lecture when he gives his weekly lecture with a slide presentation. Your friends and relatives are welcome to join you.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY AND MARCH
BIRTHDAY AND ANNIVERSARY
CELEBRATION

It's a grand bit of Irish song and blarney and entertainment that the Villa Serena leprechauns are planning for you! --And especially a grand night for the March birthday and anniversary celebrants to be joining in the fun.

The entertainment program headed by Bob Mack and "The M and M's" reads like a Broadway variety show--ballet dance, Hans Christian Anderson medley, Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy duets, Irish music, Irish jig, Banjo Al---it's a fantastic evening of fun planned for you.

The party begins at 7:30 p.m. with a traditional Irish dinner of corned beef and cabbage served at 5:00 p.m.-- dinner ticket $3.50. The admission fee for all party-goers is the mandatory wearing of "something green." Buy your dinner tickets early; they are on sale in the office.

Let's have all the members of the Villa Serena family share a large dose of Irish happiness on this Friday evening of March 17th.

Your March birthdays and anniversaries are harbingers of spring; enjoy them to the fullest--the Board of Trustees and the Villa Serena staff.

"AN IRISH RECIPE FOR LIFE"

You take a large amount of laughter,
And some teardrops mixed with sighs:
Add to this some sunshine,
And the smile of merry eyes.
Put in two cups of morning dew;
Dilute it with rain.
Stir it well with happiness,
But season it with pain.
Pour this in a golden cup,
Buttered well with strife,
Wrap it up with problems,
And there, my friend, is life.

CLASS NOTES

BOUTIQUE NEWS. The boutique rush has slowed to a relaxing pace, and we are finishing up some odds and ends of our own projects. This gives us a chance to talk about and plan our next boutique. We have some fun new ideas to try; for instance, we are currently making bread dough flowers. We are planning a cookbook for the boutique so be thinking about your favorite recipe to contribute. More details later about this exciting new project. Our boutique plans will be completed shortly, and we'll be starting work soon. We would appreciate it if you would start saving for us the following items: miscellaneous-sized tin cans; tin cans with plastic lids, coffee, etc., crimp-top bottle caps, fruit and vegetable seeds, washed and dried, apple, melon, squash, and pepper; empty wooden spools, 4-oz. instant coffee jars with lids and light-weight cardboard.

CERAMICS. The ceramic class will have some special decorations on sale two weeks prior to Easter. Ceramic eggs for only $1.50. They can be personalized with a grandchild's (or other) name.

--Audree Cain

PAINTING. Because of the trecherous weather the first class had to be cancelled and only two classes were held. Projects in landscape painting were continued. A lecture was given on how to compose a picture citing several geometric formulae on dynamic symetry to aid in placing elements in a framework. General criticism was given of paintings made the previous week and methods to correct errors.

--Lawrence Blazey

SEWING. Think "spring," ladies, and come join our class. I am delighted to be teaching the sewing class and to those of you who do not know me (from the boutique class) may I invite you to come be a part of our class Tuesday mornings and afternoons. Bring your new projects as well as your problem projects and I'll try to help you in any way that I can. I have written my own sewing booklet which I hope to have ready for each of you this spring. I am looking forward to giving a mini-lecture series using the booklet so you can learn some of my tips for making really lovely clothes that fit.
